Rev. Mr. Jenkins, of Independence laimed that we do not give the Sunday school adequate and just time and place We crowd it between times, and the effect is, it gets crowded and choked out. He agreed with Mr. Monteith, that it must have time, place and prominence. We shall then have great results. He thought it better to preach with energy one sermon a day, and then give place to the Sunday school, than spend the afternoon preaching to a congregation of sleepers. Rev. Mr. Hill thought that too much time s devoted to fermal preaching. The primary and final object is to impart Bible knowledge. To this end teachers must be well versed in the Bible, that under their instruction the scholar's search may reach no limit or hindrance. There should be the most thorough preparation for their work. As a necessary part of it, the teacher must, first, be a living man, alive with that life which carries light with it, as was said of Christ. He quoted a remark of the late Dr Wayland, that if he were to live his life over, he should not spend his time in special preparation, but aim to nurse and nourish his proper life.

The teacher must study the best way to impart instruction to his class. As to the manner of conducting class exercises, let the teacher shut his Bible, during recitation, since he requires this of the pupil. He must Revenue Stamps for sale, sep23:E3
